Targeted Consumers is the first multi-dimensional lifestyle database that identifies consumer interests using purchase data from a variety of transactional sources. This multi-channel approach captures unique prospects and sets this file apart from other lifestyle databases that rely solely on survey and data response.

Select the best prospects for your mailing from dozens of Buying Behavior and Interest selections including: Sport's gardening, intellectual interests, hobbies, causes, and more. These consumers have expressed their Passions and Interests by purchasing related products, making catalog purchases, magazine subscriptions, or even personalizing their checks and stationary. These consumers don't simply say, "I like golf," they buy golf related products, making this the perfect file to target consumers by their true interests.
